Press Release

Romanian software company CoSoSys nominated as finalist at the 2009 Hot Companies Awards by Network Products Guide

For the second year in a row, CoSoSys is the only Eastern European company having a real chance to win at the Hot Companies Gala Award ceremony in March, 2009 in San Francisco, California.

Bucharest, Romania, December 10th 2008. CoSoSys, vendor of the most innovative and effective applications for portable storage devices and endpoint security solutions, was announced as a finalist at the Hot Companies 2009 Awards by Network Products Guide, a leading IT&C research and analysis provider based in Silicon Valley. CoSoSys was selected after a thorough global industry analysis of information technology vendors which included established large companies, mid-size and new start-ups around the world.

CoSoSys has advanced to the finalists stage based on the "4Ps" selection criteria—namely Products, People, Performance, and Potential. The coveted 2009 Hot Companies analysis encompasses companies in all areas of information technologies including security, wireless, storage, networking, software and communications.

“We are extremely proud to have been once again nominated as finalists. We see this amazing accomplishment as a much deserved reward for the unrelenting efforts of the entire CoSoSys team and their determination to make people aware of the dangers of data breaches and to educate them and support their prevention efforts,” said Roman Foeckl, CoSoSys CEO.

Romanian security provider CoSoSys has made it its mission to protect computer networks from data leakage and all other threats posed in today’s working environment by portable storage devices, while providing increasingly mobile PC users with the ability to carry their personal and work related data with them in an easy and secure way.

“Companies fall short in proactively monitoring and regulating the use of portable storage and lifestyle devices, risking data loss, data leakage and data theft. It has become increasingly important to educate employees about the inherent risk of data loss and data leakage when using such devices, thus making the usage of control and prevention tools a strong necessity,” explained Mr. Foeckl.

CoSoSys’ most popular endpoint security solution, Endpoint Protector 2008, is a best of breed DLP (Data Loss Prevention) technology, combined with the flexibility of a web management console, designed to reduce the total cost of ownership and significantly lower implementation time and data leakage risk.
